We, the Senior Class of 1950, continued the tradition of the school, which was started in 1912, by putting out a Rosebud. The annual staff was chosen early in the school year and plans were formulated for building the book.

In addition to putting out the yearbook, the class had another objective, which was raising enough money to take an educational trip to Washington D. C. A large part of this money was raised by operating the canteen during the Junior year. During the present year, we sponsored a class play, gathered waste paper and held bake sales.

The Class of 1950 greatly appreciates the help of the merchants, businessmen and friends whose donations helped to make another volume of the Rosebud possible. We hope you enjoy reading it as much as we did editing it.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1950, dedicate our annual to our classmate, Ronald Boyd, who because of illness during the latter part of the school term has missed many of the joys and pleasures that are ours.

Theme

By the time we entered high school, we were beginning to learn the real meaning of the word "success". We began to understand that some people are considered as being successful in life, while others achieve success in more limited degrees. We began to wonder if there were a key that, if found and diligently applied, would assure us success in any walk of life that we might choose to travel.

Thus, we chose a saying to guide us through high school; we selected as a motto: "A Used Key Is Always Bright." As school days came and went, we began to learn there was a great deal of knowledge in this world and that the more knowledge a person acquired, the greater were his chances for success. The Key of Knowledge, then, was the basis for success.

We wanted our knowledge to be composed of much more than just our learning in the classroom. We wanted a knowledge of an enthusiasm that would be founded on a belief in our work and in ourselves; a knowledge of initiative, of the ability to stick to our ambitions, of a pleasing personality, and a knowledge of a well-rounded philosophy that would give us a set of real values. We, the Seniors of 1950, record our studies and activities on the following pages of this book, our Key to Knowledge.

This class started its long, hard journey for knowledge in 1938. Whether or not we have achieved it, only time will tell. Throughout our twelve years, we have hoped that all 29 of us would receive that long-awaited award, our diploma. Then we would know on our first real test if our knowledge were enough or if it should have been greater.

For some of us, our school days are over; for others, college lies ahead. All of us hope to attain a greater Key of Knowledge.

We are leaving a record of our use of this Key for those who come after us. The following pages reveal some of the ways in which we have obtained a beginning toward a Key of Knowledge.

Office Girls

These girls help in the office,
Checking attendance and such.
They are efficient workers,
And are appreciated very much.

Elaine takes care of the office books,
And also Charlie's dictation.
She writes the checks and letters,
Without much hesitation.

Dorothy types, and does odd jobs,
No one else could do any better.
She records the attendance every day,
And can type a perfect letter.

Patsy helps in the morning,
By continually answering the phone.
She does her work, no matter what,
Without a gripe or groan.

Nondas goes from room to room,
Checking the attendance each day.
To see if everyone is here,
Or why they are away.

Dixie answers the telephone,
Runs errands, and sees to the desk.
She accomplishes lots in the hour,
And does her work with good zest.

Teachers

Teachers are such funny things,
What shall we class them as,
Brains, big wheels, know-it-alls,
Or just old stuff from Alcatraz.

Mr. Leslie teaches English,
It's really quite a bore,
All we do is read and write,
I did that when I was four.

Mr. Long teaches History,
He also leads our band,
We mix our History with Music
And have the finest band on land.

Mr. Shideler teaches Geometry,
(At least he thinks he does,)
We learn the things about a square,
And drew and make a muss.

Mrs. Voss teaches Latin,
We speak and act like Romans,
We go home at night to Ma and Pa,
What's the use, they can't understand ya!

Miss Thompson teaches Physical Ed.,
And sometimes we have Health,
We wish we had more time to play,
But that dumb Health—take it away!

Here's to our teachers with loving praise,
We worry, joke, and kid them,
But after all they're humans, too,
And also glad when day is through.

Senior Class History

Twelve years ago the present Senior class marched into Miss Bickel's room and demanded an education. Of the twenty-nine members, fifteen have completed their entire twelve years in schooling at the Waterloo Schools. They are Elaine Bowers, Ronald Boyd, Charlotte Camp, James Crooks, Robert Dilgard, David Grimm, Nondas Hardenbrook, Verl Johnson, Sonia Kuehn, Jane Miser, Jim Sattison, Dorothy Smith, Donald Robinson, Ronald Robinson, and Richard Zerkle.

Miss Wisner and Miss Hamman guided us through the second and third grades. All of us are indebted to Miss Dirrim and Mr. Messmore who lent us a helping hand through the fourth and fifth grades. Mr. Gurtner gave us the final push into the junior high where we were under the guidance of Mr. Shore and Mr. McIntosh. Our class, whose enrollment had now increased from twenty-nine to forty-five, entered the Freshman class. Donald Robinson was elected president of the class, Donald Smith was vice president, Dorothy Smith was secretary, Dixie Aldrich was treasurer, and Sonia Kuehn and Ronald Robinson were historians. Mr. Leslie was our faculty advisor.

During our Sophomore year we sold Christmas cards and stationery to raise money. We were very proud of our gray and red class sweaters which we purchased during that year. Donald Robinson was re-elected as president, Keith Mullett was vice president, Dorothy Smith was re-elected as secretary, Jane Miser was treasurer, Elaine Bowers and Ronald Robinson were historians. Miss Altman was our faculty advisor.

Our Junior year was one of busy activity. Our class play, "It's A Great Life" was a smash hit, under the direction of Mr. Graber, who was also our faculty advisor. Our class enjoyed a hayride, a skating party and a house party. In order to raise money, for the senior trip, the Junior class sponsored the school concession stand. Keith Mullett was elected president, Jane Miser was vice president, Dorothy Smith was re-elected secretary, and Sonia Kuehn and Robert Dilgard were historians. That year we also purchased our class rings.

As Seniors we started with an enrollment of 29. All through our high school years we have always taken an active part in sports and in various activities. "Antics of Andrew," our Senior class play was a roaring success, under the direction of Don Long, who was also our faculty advisor. We sponsored several bake sales, and paper drives to raise money for the Rosebud and the Senior trip to Washington, D. C. Our president again was Don Robinson, Jane Miser was vice president, Don Smith was secretary, Richard Zerkle was treasurer, and Dixie Aldrich and David Grimm were historians. Mr. Bowers also acted as our advisor and helped us with the yearbook.

We were very sorry that Ronald Boyd had the misfortune to contract rheumatic fever during the last part of his senior year and had to drop out of regular attendance.

As we, the Class of '50, leave W. H. S. we will take with us many fond memories and experiences. We wish to thank our parents and teachers for their patience and guidance, for we now realize that we must have been rather trying at times. With the guidance they have given we feel more confident to face the future.

Dixie Aldrich and David Grimm

Class Poem

We're the class of "fifty,"
And consider it a treat,
Better boys or better girls,
We're sure you'll never meet.

Junior Leins is famous,
For his basketball and track,
We know that when he graduates,
We'll wish that he were back.

Sonia Kuehn's problem is a story
Old, yet new.
Will Sonny meet her at the church,
Or will Junior come through.

Don Robinson, the star player,
Also captain of our team,
Thinks that sports are just the thing,
And coaching is his dream.

Dixie Aldrich as we know,
Has hair of firey red,
And when it comes to studies,
She says she'd rather be dead.

Elaine, so Charlie says, is good
At taking a letter,
But she declares that's not her line,
She likes farming much better.

Ronnie Robinson is Donnie's twin,
And is opposite, you'll agree,
He considers all girls terrible,
And says a bachelor he'll be.

Dorothy Smith is our office girl,
And checks the attendance each day,
She also keeps the books,
If the principal is away.

Janie was, without a doubt,
The star of the driving class,
Could it have been a mere stop sign
That caused her not to pass?

David Grimm has many friends,
And also many an ambition,
I've heard he's going to Hollywood,
For a Warner Brothers audition.

Patsy Dancer can be seen,
Almost every Saturday night,
Selling tickets at the show,
And working with all her might.

Jim Crooks works at the Marathon,
Selling gas and such,
If he isn't there then he's at Auburn,
With a girl he likes very much.

Joanie has quite a few nick names,
The most frequently used is "Peck",
And if anyone dares call her "wiggles",
She really gives them heck.

Slim, so most of the teachers say,
Is really quite a pest,
But if it's typing class he is in,
He acts his very best.

Betty Bonecutter is rather good
At typing, and shorthand, too,
And when it comes to working,
There's nothing she'd rather do.

Duane Bowman comes from Corunna,
And baseball, he can really play,
He also has fun in the class room,
If the teacher is away.

Nondas is known for her drawings,
There isn't anything she can't make,
She is patiently waiting for summer,
Which she'll spend at Hamilton Lake.

Don Smith was chosen yell leader,
By a unanimous choice,
He is often called on to sing,
For he has a wonderful voice.

Beverly H. can do a number of things,
But her one ambition in life,
Is to live in the country,
And become a spud-farmer's wife.

Ronnie Boyd is always a quiet lad,
And doesn't have much to say,
But he comes to school each morning,
In his little old Model-A.

Charlotte Camp lives down by the depot,
And comes to school rain or shine,
She can make good pies and cookies,
And I hear she can sew mighty fine.

Jim Sattison thinks that school is dull,
So goes to class to sleep,
While Thompson explains bookkeeping,
Jim is counting his sheep.

Keith Mullett likes to argue,
And sometimes is quite a fright,
But when it comes to acting,
He really does all right.

Verl Johnson seems to be quite good,
And has just what it takes
To type a ten-minute writing
With only a few mistakes.

Ned S. says he tries hard enough,
To get his lessons done,
Though he'd rather just not bother,
And have a lot of fun.

Dave Buss comes in from the country,
He is always handsome and neat,
And when it comes to basketball,
You'll find he is hard to beat.

Kenny likes to tease the girls,
And play jokes on the boys,
Also in class and study hall,
He makes most of the noise.

Richard Zerkle, better known as Zeke,
Is really quite a fellow,
He comes to school on time each day,
In shirts of red and yellow.

Bob Dilgard with his master mind,
And endless source of knowledge,
Will probably end up teaching,
In the nation's leading college.

Meredith Poer, an athlete supreme,
Is headed for Purdue.
He has a line for everyone,
Will the profs learn this, too?

Junior Class History

In September of 1939, we, the first grade entered school under Miss Getts. We had an enrollment of twenty-three students. We passed on to the second grade under the guidance of Miss Wisner. Going on to the third grade we found school getting a little more difficult, but Miss Hamman helped us through with careful guidance.

During the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades we were taught by Miss Dirrim, Mr. Shore, and Mr. Gurtner. During our junior high years, Mr. Shore and Mr. McIntosh prepared us for high school.

Since high school was much different from our earlier years, Mr. Leslie had quite a bit of explaining to do to us during our Freshman year. We had a busy year but not quite as busy as our Sophomore year in which the purchase of our class sweaters were an important high light.

This year we started with an enrollment of 30 pupils with Mr. Jack Shore and Mrs. Voss as our home-room teacher. Our first important business was to order our class rings in October. We had an exciting day just before Thanksgiving when we received our class rings, and many more happy times that each one of us will long remember. We lost Robert Knott during the second semester. We had charge of the concession stand in order to raise money for the various class activities and the 1951 annual and trip we are planning to make when we are Seniors.

THE JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The Junior Class Presented a Three Act Comedy "A Pair of Country Kids" on April 27th.

The story had its setting in Joggins Junction where Mrs. Starr conducted the Starr Hotel; whose guests included two paying customers, Lucindy Appleby, looking for husband number ONE; and Susan Grimes, looking for husband number TWO. The "star" boarder was Ambrose Sneggins, a horse doctor who had been unvoluntarily retired by the advent of the automobile.

Two guests from New York arrived. One, Mr. Roberts, to buy the hotel, and the other, A. Roomer, a first class swindler. Both Lucindy and Susan bribed He, a young country rube who worked around the place, to get Roomer to marry them.

A pitcher of water was brought to Mr. Roberts by "Sis", the young impish girl who helped Miss Starr. He tasted it and discovered oil in the water and immediately bribed Sis to keep still about the oil until the deal was closed.

Phil West, a young lawyer, in love with April Starr, Mrs. Starr's lovely daughter, and the suspicious "Sis" were instrumental in selling the old hotel at a good price. After the deal was closed, Hi revealed how he spilled the oil in the well.

All ended happily, even though Roberts was outwitted by a "pair of country kids."

We lost and gained a few pupils through the following years, with twenty-four passing on from grade school into high school. We received nineteen pupils from other schools when we began our freshman year. During the year we gained three and lost three. At the end of the first year of high, we had an enrollment of forty-two pupils.

During the present year, we have lost five pupils and gained one. This means our present enrollment is thirty-eight.

We have had a few parties throughout the year and a hayride. At Christmas time, we sold Christmas cards to make money for our treasury. A prize was given for the person selling the greatest number of boxes. Shirley Speer walked away with those honors.

We also bought our class sweaters during the year. They are red and white.

Freshman Class History

In May 1949, twenty-three students graduated from the Waterloo elementary school. This fall thirty-eight entered high school, but within two weeks we all knew each other, at least by name. On December 23, the class, including visitors enjoyed a Christmas exchange and party at the home of Janet Myers. We also plan to have another party after it gets warmer.

Two students, Aileen Delong and Aaron Tribbett (better known as Butch), have entered the class since the beginning of the school year. At present thirty-nine are in the class, as Aileen left us.

In the various organizations of the school, the class is heavily represented. Ten of the boys are in athletics. Two of them are on the second team, while the others play on the Freshman team. Ten of the students are in the chorus, and Karen Bisel, Mary Lou Weirich, and Donna Vee Wolford make up the Freshman trio. Twenty of the class are in band. Eight pupils are in the different 4-H clubs.

We started the first week in September, 1943 with Mrs. Thompson who was a very good teacher. We were all eager to go to school the first day.

All through school we have had good and capable teachers, and though we have had to work hard at times we have had a lot of fun just the same. We have had parties during and at the end of each school year in which the teachers and pupils cooperated, and we all had jolly good times.

We have had from seventeen to twenty-five pupils since the first grade. Mrs. Thompson was our first grade teacher, Mrs. McIntosh our second, Miss Hamman our third, Miss Dirrim our fourth, Mrs. Kuehn our fifth, Mr. Gurtner our sixth, Mr. Shore and Mr. McIntosh our seventh grade teachers. This year the boys have had a shop class with Mr. Jack Shore. The girls have also had a Home Ec. class with Miss Altman as their teacher. Mr. John Shore is our home room teacher this year.

On Sept. 6, 1949, 29 pupils enrolled in the 6th grade. While the weather was warm in the fall, Taylor's Corners School came to play us a game of soft ball. We won the game with the score of 12 to 7.

During the P. T. A. membership drive a prize was offered to the room that would secure the most memberships. The 6th grade won and were entertained with a party. The party included refreshments and a picture show. We enjoyed both very much. We also secured the most members in the Band Parents Organization and so received another party. Our attendance has been good this year with the exception of several weeks when many pupils had the measles.

Sharon Werner has moved to Butler so there are now 28 in the 6th grade.

Near the end of October Mrs. Kuehn became too ill to continue teaching and Mrs. Ned McIntosh took her place.

We had some good social times along with our studies this year. We all enjoyed the big Halloween party in the gym sponsored by the Lions Club. Christmas time was celebrated by carol singing in our room and a party and gift exchange. The valentine party was a happy occasion also.

Two of our boys, Harvey Depew and Larry Gault left during the year.

Our fourth grade started this year with an enrollment of 33. During the year Sondra Church and Louis Aker entered. We had several parties including a Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine Party. Our attendance was effected by a measle epidemic in January and bad weather in February.

A new subject enjoyed was geography. We learned about many lands in our imaginary trips. We decided the world is very large, but yet very small because of good books, pictures, fast boats, trains and airplanes which are doing much to make the people of many countries look alike, and think alike. Physical Education was another popular subject.

Several parents and friends visited us during the year. Splendid cooperation has been shown by the parents and community which makes for a better school.

Parties at Halloween, Christmas and Valentine were enjoyed by all the children and a few guests. Possibly the most interesting party was given by our class for the pre-school children at the last of the school year.

We had a very successful evening on "School Night". Many fathers and mothers gathered in the room to ask questions, discuss problems and become better acquainted. Our room received the prize from the P. T. A. for having the largest per cent of attendance. The children voted to get three new balls with the money.

Our class was lucky this year not to have any serious accidents although illness caused many days of absence.

Due to the interest and cooperation of the parents, we feel we have had a very happy and successful school term.

Christmas Pageant

Those planning the Christmas play decided to throw caution and convention to the winds. In other words, the plans had to call for something unique even if it were not good. The traditional program seemed a bit trite, and the committee felt that something novel and different could be not only inspiring but entertaining as well. Laboring on this premise, work was started and thoughts flew back and forth like snowflakes in a March wind.

An innocent little request by Mrs. Voss for some continuity to introduce Christmas carols turned out to be one of those colossal things which required outside help to be staged. Many a skeptical remark was dropped within hearing of the directors questioning the advisability of the venture. Derogatory statements fell on deaf ears. The state of consciousness was consumed with mental gymnastics necessary to hurdle the problem of the Christmas program. One cerebral cyclone followed another until, at last, the production seemed to take shape. Surely, a less stubborn and wiser group of directors would have given up in the face of such adverse criticism.

The old expression "ignorance is bliss" surely applied here. The directors went on their merry way reveling in a pit of ignorance and inexperience. In four short weeks they made more mistakes than Alfred of comic-strip fame made in a like number of years. Errors and mistakes were a dime a dozen, but each was taken in stride. Some were eliminated and others were incorporated in the final production due to lack of detection. It seemed to be a fascinating business. The young people and directors never knew what to expect from one practice to another. Consequently, each session was fresh and different. That is the advantage of home-town script writing. No stuffy old factory directions to follow—just make your own as the production unfolds. If one thing won't work, stumble around; perhaps fortune will pick you up with a workable idea.

Needless to say, Fortune had her hands full with this bunch of Hollywood neophytes. One plan after another fell flat. Dame Fortune leaped out, picked up the pieces, applied mental resuscitation, and revived the groggy production staff. Once revived, the staff would start again with new zeal and finally after many such experiences, December 23, rolled around and the production had to be staged.

If you are curious and still reading, we will attempt to tell you what actually happened. The script was prepared by Mr. Overmeyer who assumed the responsibility for general direction of the production. Since so much of the Christmas season is dominated by thoughts of secularism it was decided to use the true biblical nativity scene as the theme with a little fiction woven in as a vehicle for the narrative. Religious Christmas carols were used to provide continuity and background music. Mrs. Voss directed all the vocal numbers. These included the high school chorus, grade school chorus, solo and ensemble numbers. Mr. Harold Long directed the band and made arrangements for the use of the solovox. In addition to the personnel in the music organizations, there were approximately twenty students from the various grades who carried the action parts in the pageant. In all, approximately 150 students took part.

The script was written to use lights and lighting effects to create centers of interest at various points on the stage. Since this type of production requires a large amount of space, the gymnasium floor was used as a stage. Where incidents in the Christmas story took place, lights were focused on this spot thereby blacking out all other areas in the immediate vicinity. The actors moved from spot to spot, and the illusion of time and space were carried on the back of the lighting arrangements. There is no question but what the electrical features not only added greatly to the effectiveness of the program but were largely responsible for the creation of the proper atmosphere for the various scenes. Considerable credit for the work done in the electrical field must be given to Messrs. Winkleblack, Imhoff, Kuehn, Kohl, Reinhart, and Shideler.

As for the properties, many of the parents and teachers, directed by Mrs. Reinhart, Miss Altman, and Mrs. Voss, gave their time to manufacture costumes and stage settings. Mr. Gurtner and Mr. McIntosh acted as stage managers and provided very realistic settings for the program performance. Another unusual feature was the use of a narrator who carried on the conversation of some of the characters in the play. This was done so well by Mr. Jack Shore that many in the audience were not aware of the use of this technique. The timing demonstrated between Mr. Shore and Charles Smith, who took the part of Father Time, was perfect and the pageantry here was so realistic that the audience felt sure the discourse was being carried on by Charles.

If there were ever a community production, this one would surely be placed in that category. Fraternal organizations, namely the Knights of Pythias and the Masonic Order provided colorful costumes, the churches loaned the robes to dress the choirs, other individuals and organizations in the community gave freely of properties and time to make the production a success.

Of all the Christmas programs held in the gymnasium, this was the best attended. The ushers estimated between eleven and twelve hundred people were present for the event. Many leaving remarked that a new significance of Christmas had been conveyed by the splendid work done by the young people in depicting the events of the nativity scene.

Halloween Party

Halloween of 1949 took on a new appearance in Waterloo. Instead of the traditional trick-or-treat racket, vandalism, and other forms of disregard for the rights of people, the young people in the community were offered a proposition by the Lions Club and the school. It was suggested that if the pupils would refrain from these activities which are destructive and wasteful in nature, a fine party on Halloween night would be provided; furthermore, if there were no evidences of property destruction, the day following Halloween would be a school holiday. The students apparently were really enthusiastic about this proposal as evidenced by their spirit of co-operation.

The Lions Club and businessmen in town provided funds for a big party on Halloween night in the gymnasium. Besides two hundred youngsters who appeared in costumes, there were upward to six hundred people on the bleachers. The party started at 7 o'clock and was completed about 11. During that time the Lions Club dispensed about 1300 doughnuts and 80 gallons of cider. Prizes for various classes of costumes were awarded The judges had a very difficult task of selecting those best costumed because the degree of originality and unusualness was truly amazing. The young people were then entertained with boxing matches, contests, and movies. Several of the Lions members expressed the opinion that this was one of the finest things the Club had done for the community in many a year. A general opinion of the businessmen and others in the community was that it should be tried again.

Senior Band

The regular Senior Band's membership is made up of students from grades seven to twelve inclusive. The Band's activities for the school year were high lighted by playing and marching for the Tulip Festival at Holland, Michigan. Waterloo was one of the two Indiana towns sending its band to this lovely spectacle. Our band was awarded recognition with a plaque. Concerts were held as usual in the summer and a full band program was initiated during the months of June and July.

The Band was again awarded the Sweepstakes Trophy at the DeKalb County Fair. The Band also won the Best-Uniformed Trophy and the Drum Major for Class A in this contest.

State and nation wide acclaim through the newspapers and a feature article in Baton Music Magazine have served to advertise not only our fine marching band but the community of Waterloo itself.

The Class C State Marching Trophy was awarded the band. The contest was held at Auburn. The Band opened with a fanfare which was followed by the required maneuvers on the field. As the field was darkened, a moveable square of red and blue was seen. The next maneuver was a huge stairway in blue leading to a cluster of stars, the band softly played "Stairway To The Stars." Following this maneuver, the field was flooded again with light and the band went off the field using its famous "Half Step."

The twirlers put on twirling exhibitions at all the home games. The band also put on a marching show for the Ashley game.

One of the outstanding features of the year was the Christmas pageant written by Mr. Overmeyer and portrayed in action and music. The music was furnished by the band and chorus.

The band was fortunate in having several of its members rate first division in Solo and Ensemble Competition. These ensembles rating first division were two twirling ensembles and a cornet trio. A great number of second divisions were given. Several of the band members obtained first divisions for piano and voice.

Pianist ELAINE BOWERS

The High School Chorus filled 14 vacancies at the beginning of the year by tryouts. The result was a membership of 40. The group meets on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings for 25 minute periods under the direction of Mrs. Voss. We have a short vocalizing period and have tried a cappella singing along with our regular chorus singing. The P. T. A. organization bought for us beautiful gray robes this year of which we are very proud. We wish to take this opportunity to thank them for their interest in us.

Two of our members, Arlene Dunn and Don Smith sang solos in the District Contest at Ft. Wayne and won First Division ratings. In the State Contest at Indianapolis, Don won a second division rating and Arlene won a third division rating.

We are losing some valuable members this year who will graduate. They are Betty Bonecutter, Joan McMaster, Jane Miser, Dixie Aldrich, Ronald Boyd, Meredith Poer, Don Smith, Richard Zerkle, and Jim Crooks.

Our able Accompanist, Elaine Bowers, also graduates this spring, leaving another difficult vacancy to fill.

Men's Chorus

Mrs. Voss scheduled one 25 minute period a week for a Men's Chorus. We didn't appear in public, but we received some new experience in singing 4-part work and enjoyed trying something new.

In a few years hence, we expect to boast a good Men's Chorus.

Octette

The Mixed Octette sandwiched extra rehearsals into the program whenever we had a public appearance to make.

We enjoyed singing together and worked some entertaining numbers when the occasion arose.

Mrs. Voss, Elaine Bowers, Richard Hilkey, Don Smith, Arlene Dunn, Carol Bunge, Pat Nodine, Jane Miser, Don Korff, and Meredith Poer.

Trio

The Girl's Trio has had a very pleasant and eventful year. They have had many invitational engagements in and around Waterloo and were very well received.

They only had one 25-minute period a week scheduled to practice but because of the many programs they had to prepare for, they did a great deal of outside practice with Mrs. Voss coaching.

"Nobody Knows The Trouble I've Seen," was their selection for the District Contest at Ft. Wayne. They received a Second Division Rating.

Only one member, Jane Miser, Alto, leaves by graduation. We will greatly miss her. We also lose our capable accompanist, Elaine Bowers, who is a Senior and will also be missed very much.

A caroling party was held at the Christmas season and then following this, we had the installation of new officers. During some of our meetings we enjoyed musical programs and several good moving pictures. Also an interesting book review was given by Mrs. Warren Hamilton.

To better our club, each member was placed under a certain committee to carry out the various projects of the year.

Several girls attended the District Y-Teen Conference at Garrett and the Northern Indiana Y-Teen Conference at Elkhart. A very impressive pre-Easter service was enjoyed by all at the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The work of the F.F.A. has not been heard of by everyone this year, but we did have some outstanding activities. Our first adventure was the buying of coveralls to wear on field trips, basketball games, etc. These coveralls were unique in that they had our name on the front and the name of our chapter on the back. Our next enterprise was a pest contest of which there were two team captains. Don Korff and Ross Myers were team captains, and Korff's team ran away from Myer's team with 36,000 points as compared to 12,870 points. The loosing team must treat the winning team to a supper. For making money we have finally convinced everyone that a coke machine would be enjoyed in the school, so the proceeds will go to the chapter, providing everyone cooperates in keeping the bottles put away.

We attended the annual district spring banquet held at the Auburn Chamber Of Commerce building on March 31.

Athletics

On January 31, the school community was given a fascinating entertainment when members of the Lions Club gave members of the Waterloo Volunteer Firfemen strong opposition in the Skru-Ball Basketball game. From the beginning to the end there was plenty of action, thrills and spills. It could easily be seen that the chauffeurs lacked skill as well as the players on the slippery platforms. Many a good play was foiled at a cost of a foul and two minutes on the side line for the opponents.

In the Skru-Ball Hockey the Freshmen girls demonstrated to the fans that they were just as adapt with the three-wheel vehicles as were the Sophomore girls. Although the game was a little slow at first, it soon gained speed, and there were plenty of collisions and spills. An unexpected course of the pucks, resulted in a mix up of tricycles and girls, and at times there was fast and furious action. There was never a dull moment.

DICK KUMMER
His free throws are good,
His spirit is swell.
And on handling the ball
He does very well.

JIM TUTTLE
Jim is good at
Getting off his feet.
And for lay-up shots,
He's sure hard to beat.

TOM GLANT
Tom plays as guard,
And gets lots of cheer.
We'll see him back
Again next year.

DON KORFF
Donnie plays good,
And comes to the aid.
When the team is behind,
And there're points to be made.

DAVID GRIMM
Gets the rebounds,
And makes his free throws,
Has a smile on his face,
Wherever he goes.

JUNIOR LEINS
Junior can shoot
From way out on the floor.
And he always seems able
To raise the score.

DON ROBINSON
Captain of the team,
And the tallest one too,
With his right hand pivot,
The ball goes right through.

ROSS MYERS
He may be small,
But his guarding is great.
He plays quite a lot,
And is a good team mate.

RICHARD HILKEY
Has been high point man,
For more than one game.
His tricky passes,
Have won him fame.

JIM CROOKS
Helps the team out
When they're in a tight spot,
By using a very
Spectacular shot.

The "B" team coached by Bruce Gurtner turned in a good season's record by winning 14 out of 19 games played.

In the County Tourney the local lads were defeated by a strong Ashley five in the final minutes of the game 29 to 24.

The boys had several exciting games this year. The first game with Butler was a nip and tuck affair all the way. First one team led and then the other; Waterloo won by a score of 29 to 26. The boys played Ashley three times this year and were beaten by them the first two games. The third game was a thrilling one; final score was 42 to 26. By defeating Ashley, the boys gained possession of the "Milk Bottle." Waterloo then kept it for three games by defeating Avilla, Wolcottville, Fremont. Waterloo lost possession of the "Milk Bottle" to Butler in the last game of the season.
